

LIFE IN THE METROPOLIS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY THE

Anarchy in a Beer Saloon—A Crazy Young Man Does Some Wild Shooting in Alton
Street and Hits a Customer With a Bullet

A young man entered Franz Pfaff's beer saloon at 197 Allen street yesterday afternoon and asked for a glass of beer. After drinking it he declared that the social revolution was coming; Most was in the penitentiary, and—

"What of that?" said Pfaff. "Pay for your beer."

Thereupon the young man drew a .38-caliber revolver and fired at Pfaff, the ball going through his hat. Pfaff dropped behind the bar, and the seven or eight other men in the saloon tried to flee.

Kuntzman in the first assault attack occurred at the top of his skull. Kuntzman is a painter and lives at 209 Allen street. Policeman Sparesberg came in, and the young man was subdued with a club and a bung starter and was taken to the Eldridge street police station crying for blood. He proved to be Joseph Daminio 24 years old, of 18 East Third street, a tailor by trade. In his pockets were several essays very crazy, in German, many of denunciation of the Jews and of "about."

Justice Murray held Damin to await the coroner's inquest on Kuntzman's hurt. Kuntzman was sent to the Gouverneur Hospital. The wound may prove dangerous.

Charles W. Wurttemberg, about four years of age, while playing at 14 East Third street, became insane, broke a mirror, and tried to eat the pieces. He was sent to the Ward's Island asylum, and remained there for two weeks. He was very much tired, and when he returned to live at 14 East Third street, he was a year ago. He found work at his trade in West Thirty-sixth street. On Sunday last he complained of being sick. At breakfast on Tuesday

The Jury in the Lehman Murder Trial Locked Up for the Night.

John Lehman, who is on trial in the Court of Oyer and Terminer for killing his wife by throwing her down an air shaft, testified yesterday in his own behalf that his wife had asked him to take off his shoes. He did so. Then he went into the bedroom to get a glass of beer and had it being along out. There he and his wife quarrelled about some matter. He then went back and struck her with a towel. The blow knocked off his hat.

The late J. B. Rimmonds of Violet Cameron's opera company, who died in St. Vincent's Hospital on Sunday last, was to have been buried yesterday from the Church of the Transfiguration under the auspices of the church.

Sergeant Haggerty's Sudden Death.
Sergeant Joseph Haggerty of the Fifth street police station died of heart disease at the home of his wife, Mrs. Haggerty, 1110 West Madison street, at 11 o'clock last night. He died from duty at 6 o'clock next day. He was 37 years of age. He was buried in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery at 11 o'clock next day.

Signal Office Prediction.
Fair weather, nearly stationary temperature winds generally northerly.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Judge Donohue has granted an absolute divorce to August Kress from Mary Kress.

The Executive Committee of the United Labor party met in Central Labor Union Hall last night, and adopted a constitution and by-laws, and set apart the first Thursday of the month for the regular meeting.

The American Bible Union held its thirty-third annual meeting yesterday at the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church. The program was headed by the Rev. J. H. Starnes, pastor in charge; Secretary, D. C. Hughes; Treasurer, H. S. Day. Superintendent Murray sent out the following general alarm last night: "Raped or stolen, Daniel! If you have been victimized, call for help at once. If breast, if found, notify James Kane, Victoria Hotel."

Harry Hill, accompanied by his lawyer, called on Mayor Grace yesterday, and made an urgent appeal for help in the case of the missing woman. The mayor said in Houston street. The Mayor promised to consider it.

Bernard C. McQuade of 129 West street, James J. Moran of 2121 North Main street, Charles J. Frisell of 335 Sixth Avenue, and Ernest J. McQuade of 1490 First street, were held at Jefferson Market yesterday for trial.

A Coroner's jury decided yesterday that Kate Sullivan of 97 Manhattan street was responsible for the death of the twins found in the cesspool at that number a week ago. She was committed to the Tombs to await the

George Boltz, the gray-haired brass worker of 108 Centre street, who is accused of luring into his premises and maltreating Carrie Fisher, 15 years old, of 117 Chrystie

The branches of the City Court held by Chief Justice McAdams and Judges Hall, Hyatt, and Nebraska adjourned after the meeting of the jury in the matinee session. Chief Justice Henry Aiker, who for eighteen years has been a member of the court.

A committee from the Central Labor Union called upon Mayor Grace yesterday and asked him to enforce the laws for the closing of places of business on the Sabbath. The Mayor told the many clerks are required of needed rest owing to the disobedience of these laws.

The Mayor heard arguments yesterday by Gen. Hor-

The schedules in the assignment of Sydney H. Smith and the other trustees of the Franchise Association, as set out in detail in the report of the court, are as follows:

The first schedule, which was made up by the trustees, is in date at 126 and 128 Greene street, to David R. Drake, dated yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas, states liabilities of $1,000; annual assets, $31,366.13, and actual assets, $17,885.00.

The Franchise Association is going to build a $200,000 club house at Fourth avenue and Seventy-second street, with a swimming pool, and with tennis courts, 100 by 105 feet, and will cost $8,000, were filed by Mr. Nathan, Chairman of the Building Committee, at the hearing of the court.

Geo. H. Parsons, having refused to obey an order of the court, was committed to the county jail.

The demand of conductors and drivers on the Sixth

The body of Vice-President Herbert M. Hoxie was embalmed yesterday, and last night left here on a special train for Chicago.

lowa, where the funeral services will take place on Friday. Capt. R. M. Hayes and Mrs. Huxie accompanied the remains. Among those at the depot were Jay Williams, John Thorpe, Sidney Dillon, and Gen. Dodge.

Among the places to be filled in the Customs House is that of the Collector's private secretary. It was said yesterday that ex-Assemblyman Maurice F. Holman had received the appointment. Mr. Holman is a farmer and lives near the town of Waverly, in Harrison county. Mr. Holman got an appointment in Washington, and is here now. The Collector's private secretary receives $2,500 a year.

are against the city, before Judge Friedman in the superior court yesterday, on the score that the Dock Commissioners should have awarded him the contract for repairing certain docks, and for building a new pier at the foot of West Twenty-seventh street, as he was the only bidder who complied with the law requiring a certified check to accompany the bid.

yesterday as far as to ascertain what sums of money the Independent Steamboat Company and the New Jersey Steamboat Transportation Company received in the operation of their ferries, aided by John H. Starin, in opposition to the Whitehall Street Ferry, several summers ago, and to report what amount of damage the city had suffered thereby. It was recently decided that Mr.

Arnold, Constable & Co. sued the Inman steamship line for $15,000 damages for goods destroyed by a fire at North pier Pier 30 on the night of Jan. 31, 1983. The goods were brought over in the steamship Egypt and declared at Pier 30. Arnold, Constable & Co. claimed that it had been the custom to discharge their goods at Pier 36, and that the firm had not been properly notified that the goods were on the other pier. In the United States District Court yesterday Judge Brown dismissed